

Your Name:

Cite the Article:

Introduction:

What is the objective or purpose of the study? What key prior research was discussed or cited by the researchers? State the hypothesis.

Method:

How did the researchers test the hypothesis? Who were the participants in the study? What were they asked to do?

Results:

What were the main findings of the study? What was the answer to the research question?

Discussion:

Provide the significant contributions of this research study. Did the researchers suggest any limitations or problems concerning the methods of the study? Discuss next steps or future directions for this research topic.

Critical Analysis:

What did you learn from this research study? What questions do you have about this topic or research study? What did you learn that could be applied to your own experience?